

THE FRASER AWARD

Background

The Carol Fraser Industry Training Award (Fraser Award) was established in July 2022 in memory of Carol Fraser of Growing Spectrum who played an extremely active role in the professional development of plant producers.

The award, supported by the Fraser family, continues Carol's education legacy through its support of those outstanding individuals who have a passion for plants, for learning and for our industry.

We encourage managers and colleagues to nominate those workers who will be the plant production leaders of tomorrow.

We are very excited about this award and look forward to the nominations coming in.

For more information please contact NZPPI via email office@nzppi.co.nz or phone 04 918 3511

Award Prizes

The 2024 Fraser Award is comprised of:

A trophy, certificate and prize pool of about $5000 for learning and professional development costs

An all inclusive package to attend the NZPPI annual conference on May 15 and 16 in Hamilton.

Criteria

It is open to nominated individuals of any age who:

- Work in the plant production industry or a related industry.
- Are enrolled or have recently completed (within 3 years of their nomination) training and education in an area related to plant production
- Demonstrate a passion for plants, a love of learning and an enthusiasm for the industry.
- Display a positive and co-operative attitude towards colleagues and customers/clients
- Have the aptitude and focus to work for the betterment of the industry
- Are available to attend the NZPPI conference.

Timing

The 2024 award nominations open in March and close on April 24 2024.

A judging panel will interview nominees in April.

The winner will be notified then announced at the NZPPI conference awards dinner on Wednesday May 15th in Hamilton.

Terms and Conditions

Award nominees must meet the outlined criteria.

Nominations must only be submitted by people currently working within the plant production industry, on behalf of the nominees.

Nomination forms must be completed and emailed to NZPPI to arrive by April 24 2024.

Award nominees must supply a minimum of two industry referees to be contacted during the judging process.

Completion of an nomination form does not guarantee entry into the Fraser Award.

The winning recipient must be available to attend the NZPPI conference on May 15 and 16 in Hamilton.

The judges' decisions will be final and no correspondence will be entered into.

All prizes are to be accepted as given and how cash prizes are expended are subject to discussion with the judging panel.

Award recipient will be available to give media interviews and promote the award.

Please see the nomination form overleaf.

CAROL FRASER INDUSTRY TRAINING AWARD 2024

Nomination form

Nominations close at 5.00pm on 24 April 2024

Email completed forms before deadline to NZPPI at office@nzppi.co.nz

1 Name of person being nominated and the organisation they currently work for:

Nominee:

Organisation:

2 Details of the education programme they are or have been undertaking:

Programme:

3 Name of person making the nomination:

Nominator:

4 Signature of person making the nomination:

Signature:

5 Contact details for the person making the nomination:

Contact Name:

Place of work:

Contact Phone:

Email:

6 Please explain why the nominee deserves this award:

Include details of positions held and dates where possible, and a brief explanation of the impact that this person has had on the industry or organisation they have worked in.